Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs

39 Germania Street,
Galeton, Pennsylvania,
May 21, 1952.

Dr. Ralph W. Sockman,
Director of the Hall of Fame,
New York University,
New York City, N.Y.

Dear Dr. Sockman:

When I tell you that, as news service chairman, Pennsylvania Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs, I raised approximately $650.00 in Pennsylvania to help purchase the portrait bust of Susan B. Anthony which was unveiled during the ceremonies in the Hall of Fame Sunday, and that I was in the audience, perhaps you will not think the request I am about to make is too unusual.

Would you mind sending me the opening paragraph of your "Response"...that part about looking through the rear view mirror? I have thought about it so much since as it was the finest opening for a speech that I had ever heard.

I was attending the Pennsylvania State Convention of Business & Professional Women's Clubs in Reading, Pa. May 15 through 18 and the National News Service chairman, Miss Monita Goldsby, Baton Rouge, La. and I made the trip over to New York together to attend the ceremonies. (Miss Goldsby was our banquet speaker Saturday evening). We were both thrilled with the entire program and I, personally, felt it was a real privilege to have been a spectator at such impressive ceremonies.

Sincerely yours,

Nellie V. Curran

Nellie V. Curran (Mrs)
